

Daily Sparks Tribune

your community newspaper since 1910

50¢ • VOLUME 102 NUMBER 237

THURSDAY, AUGUST 25, 2011

ORDER UP!

Sierra Nevada Job Corps in Stead hosted invited guests to a four-star lunch cooked and served by students in the school's instructional restaurant. This event gave students and staff the opportunity to meet and hear from local business and community leaders, including Washoe County District Attorney Dick Gammick, while showcasing the talents and accomplishments of Job Corps students.

Tribune/John Byrne
Left: Sonia Green, a student at Sierra Nevada JobCorps, serves meals during the school's luncheon Wednesday. The school is a no-cost education and career technical training program administered by the U.S. Department of Labor that helps young people ages 16 through 24 improve the quality of their lives through career technical and academic training. The school periodically hosts lunches to allow students to showcase their talents. Below: Chef Ed Watts, one of the culinary instructors at the Sierra Nevada Job Corps, addresses luncheon attendees.

